

| Line(Page) | Draft text  | Suggested revision  | Grounds for revision  |
|------------|---|---|---|
| 189(p.8)   | respecting the dignity of affected people  | respecting the human rights of affected people   | Not only in Fukushima but also in the surrounding areas, many residents have been suffering from the violation of human rights connecting to various stage of issues derived from the radiation exposure and contamination. Considering the gravity of ethical values, the term "dignity" should be changed to "human rights" that clarify its legal implications. |
| 381(p.13)  | a threat to their autonomy and dignity .   | a threat to their autonomy and dignity.   | Same as above.  |
| 620(p.19)  | people with respect ( dignity ). Prudence, justice, and dignity are core ethical values | people with respect ( human rights ). Prudence, justice, and human rights are core ethical values | Same as above.  |
| 1904(p.50) | consideration of prudence and dignity in order to ensure decent living conditions              | consideration of prudence and human rights in order to ensure decent living conditions                   | Same as above.  |
| 2000(p.52) | dignity (ICRP, 2018).  | human rights   | Same as above.Same terminology should be applied to ICRP, 2018.   |
| 2142(p.56) | (i.e. respecting their dignity ).  | (i.e. respecting their dignity ).  | Same as above.  |